Battery Energy Storage Solution Design in North America

Overview

What is a stationary battery energy storage system?

Stationary battery energy storage systems (BESS) are showing a lot of promise, and as technology grows within the electric vehicle market, application development specialists are rapidly adapting that technology as a storage solution. Stacked battery packs of various sizes and configurations are connected to form large assemblies.

Which segment dominates the North American battery storage system market?

The utility segment dominates the North American battery storage system market, commanding approximately 82% of the total market share in 2024, while also exhibiting the strongest growth trajectory with a projected growth rate of around 9% from 2024 to 2029.

Is battery energy storage a good investment opportunity?

Battery energy storage presents a USD 24 billion investment opportunity in the United States and Canada through 2025. More than half of US states have adopted renewable energy goals, such as California's target of 100% clean energy by 2045.

How much will a battery energy storage system cost in 2021?

Cumulative battery energy storage system (BESS) capital expenditure (CAPEX) for front-of-the-meter (FTM) and behind-the-meter (BTM) commercial and industrial (C&I) in the United States and Canada will total more than USD 24 billion between 2021 and 2025.

How many battery energy storage systems are being built in Texas?

October 2024: RWE began constructing three battery energy storage systems (BESS) in Texas, increasing their total projects under construction to 931 MW across California, Texas, and Arizona. The Crowned Heron 1, Crowned Heron

2, and Cartwheel 1 projects in Texas will collectively provide 450 MW of power capacity and 900 MWh of storage capacity.

What is the competitive landscape for battery storage?

The competitive landscape is characterized by a mix of established electrical equipment manufacturers, automotive companies expanding into energy storage, and pure-play battery storage specialists.
