Overview

Are solar PV projects a 'here-and-now' opportunity?

This report focuses on two energy transition sectors: solar photovoltaic (PV) projects and offshore wind farms. Solar PV offers the "here-and-now" opportunity – it already represents the lowest marginal cost of electricity generation globally, with overall prices continuing to decline.

Will Indonesia be able to generate 23% of renewables by 2025?

Indonesia plans to develop a further 60 floating PV installations to contribute to its target of 23% of power generation from renewables by 2025. Integrating rising levels of variable renewables into its power system is important for Indonesia.

What is concentrating solar power (CSP)?

Concentrating Solar Power (CSP) plants use mirrors to concentrate the sun's rays and produce heat for electricity generation via a conventional thermodynamic cycle. Unlike solar photovoltaics (PV), CSP uses only the direct component of sun-light (DNI)1 and can provide carbon-free heat and power only in regions with high DNI (i.e. Sun Belt regions).

What is solar photovoltaic & smart aguaculture?

This innovative approach combines solar photovoltaic power generation with smart aquaculture technologies, enhancing land use efficiency, stabilizing water quality, and improving farming environments to boost productivity and sustainability in the aquaculture industry.

What is the potential for solar photovoltaic & offshore wind supply chain investments?

The potential for solar photovoltaic (PV) and offshore wind supply chain investments in Asia Pacific presents a US$1.1 trillion opportunity to 2050, of which 75% would be spent on and remain within the countries undertaking these projects.

What is the 145 MW Cirata floating solar PV project?

The 145 MW Cirata floating solar PV project that is under construction is a key milestone in Indonesia's clean energy transition. It will be the country's largest solar PV plant when completed in late 2022 and one of the biggest floating solar PV plants in the world.
