Construction of new energy storage power station in France

Overview

Renewable developer and independent power producer (IPP) TagEnergy will soon start construction on the largest BESS project in France, a 240MW/480MWh project with Tesla providing BESS and EPC services. Where is France's largest battery energy storage system located?

TagEnergy, in partnership with Tesla, has officially begun construction on France's largest battery energy storage system (BESS) in Cernay-lès-Reims, located in the department of Marne .

What is the largest battery-energy storage project in France?

Total has announced the largest battery-energy storage project in France - a 25 MWh/25 MW system to be installed later this year in Mardyck, at the Flandres Center, in Dunkirk's port district.

When will a battery energy storage system be built?

Archeological investigations have been going on at the site since April and construction will start in January 2025, with a grid connection scheduled for late 2025. The battery energy storage system (BESS) will optimise the use of renewables on the grid, provide extra capacity during peak demand periods, and provide grid stability services.

Which large-scale Bess projects are progressing in France?

Other large-scale BESS projects in France have also progressed recently. Late last month, Switzerland-based IPP Alpiq acquired a BESS project from UK-based developer Harmony Energy Oise, north of Paris, while Harmony Energy announced it would build a separate project near Nantes in July – both sized at 100MW/200MWh.

What is the largest Bess project in France?

The largest operational BESS in France that Energy-Storage.news has reported on is a 61MW/61MWh project owned by oil and gas major TotalEnergies, deployed by its system integrator subsidiary Saft. IPP TagEnergy will soon start construction on the largest BESS project in France, at 240MW/480MWh, with Tesla providing BESS and EPC services.

What is the Cernay-lès-Reims battery project?

Fully developed and managed by TagEnergy, the Cernay-lès-Reims battery project benefits from significant economies of scale, with a storage capacity nearly five times larger than the country's current largest operational battery.
