Ecuador 400MW energy storage project

Overview

Is Ecuador laying the foundation for 15% solar PV growth?

Ecuador is laying the foundation for 15% solar PV growth over the coming decade, data and analytics company GlobalData reports. The country is currently taking its nascent steps into non-traditional renewable energies, particularly solar PV deployment.

Will Ecuador get a CCCP power plant in 2021?

The Energy Ministry released tenders in 2021 for a 500 MW renewable block (wind, biomass, solar), 400 MW Natural Gas Combined Cycle Power Plant (CCCP), and a Northeast Transmission System to supply the Ecuadorian oil system. The Energy Ministry has not yet awarded the contracts.

What is Ecuador's energy supply?

Ecuador's power space has long been dominated by hydropower and oil-based generation. According to IRENA's latest data (for 2017), almost 80% of the country's energy supply was from oil and about 16% from renewables, with almost all of this from hydro supplemented with a small contribution from bioenergy.

Will solar power grow in Ecuador?

"As of 2019, with an installed capacity of 26.7 MW solar PV formed a negligible portion of Ecuador's capacity mix," comments Somik Das, Senior Power Analyst at GlobalData. "Going ahead, GlobalData notes that growth in solar capacity is anticipated to see an expansion, seeing cumulative installed capacity of more than 4GW by 2030.".

Will Ecuador have a power shortage in 2023?

Ecuador is experiencing power generation shortages in 2023, and analysts expect them to extend to 2024. The Energy Ministry and CELEC plan to issue tenders to add additional generation. Future projects under consideration include hydro, geothermal, wind, and biomass.

What will Ecuador's energy mix look like in 2030?

While solar PV is a key area of Ecuador's energy mix that has potential for growth, GlobalData anticipates that hydropower will account for more than 65% of the power supply in 2030. Oil-based generation will be in second place. Both the wind and biomass potential are limited, IRENA's data indicates.
