Kyiv Power Energy Storage System Solution

Overview

The new battery energy storage system will operate in tandem with hydropower plant turbines to provide quick response to the national power grid, while simultaneously reducing the wear-and-tear on the hydro units, improving overall power system reliability and reducing operational costs.Did Ukraine get a loan to build a battery energy storage complex?

(Julia Kochetova/Bloomberg via Getty Images) This audio is created with AI assistance Ukraine's largest private energy company DTEK secured a $72-million loan to build one of the largest battery energy storage complexes in Eastern Europe, the company said on June 3.

Why is Ukraine investing €140 million in energy storage?

The €140 million total investment aims to enhance power grid stability, bolstering Ukraine's energy security and independence. The project will be the biggest operational energy storage portfolio in Eastern Europe at the time of commissioning.

Will Kyiv's energy storage system reach 27% by 2030?

Kyiv wants to up this to 27% by 2030. Other similar energy storage systems in Eastern Europe include Lithuanian electricity transmission system operator Litgrid's 200-MW units launched in 2023 and a 55-MW battery energy storage system in Razlog in southwestern Bulgaria that went online in 2024.

Who is funding the energy storage project in Ukraine?

Ukraine's second most profitable bank, state-owned Oschadbank, state-owned Ukrgasbank, and PUMB will provide the funding for the project, which includes six energy storage installations across the country, totaling 200 megawatts to power 600,000 households.

How much electricity will Kyiv's power plant store?

Together, they will store up to 400 MWh of electricity – enough to supply two hours of power to 600,000 homes (equivalent to roughly half the households in Kyiv).

Is DTEK the largest private investment in Ukraine's energy sector?

It marked the largest ever private investment in Ukraine's energy sector. Unlike other state-owned energy companies in Ukraine, DTEK hasn't been able to secure funding from the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD).
